ÃQ: NSMetadataQuery EXCELIIMEDUCE to UICollectionView
How to make NSMetadataQuery load EXCELIIMEDUCE files into UICollectionView? I use let request = NSMetadataQuery()
request.searchScopes = ["NSMetadataQuery.UbiquitousDocumentsScope"]
request.resultType = NSMetadataQueryResultType.ToIdentifiersAndEtags request.startQuery() To build searchable UITableView. But I would like to use UICollectionView here instead. But with NSMetadataQuery I'm not able to get resultItems property. It returns empty list after startQuery() method invocation. Let me know if some one knows how to integrate this with UICollectionView? A: I found a solution. We need to use NSCollectionViewLayout to do that. Basically adding new items to UICollectionView. E.g. self.collectionView.dataSource = self self.collectionView.delegate = self self.collectionView.register(NSCollectionViewItem.self, forSupplementaryViewOfKind: "NSMetadataQueryItem") After that we need to use NSPredicate to add items from NSMetadataQuery to NSCollectionView. And NSPredicate.predicateFromItemList is suitable for that. A: NSMetadataQuery searches all of the user's persistent identifiers by name and type and invokes the appropriate delegate methods accordingly. NSMetadataQuery doesn't have the result type that NSMetadataQueryResultType has. So don't use those. See this. #!/usr/bin/env python import sys import os sys.path.insert(0, os.path.join(os. 6d1f23a050
